neck was broken, and he must hve met instant death. Three hours afterward the hody of Martin A. Schriver, the firemen, was removed from the wreck. He also had died instantly from a broken neck. The bodies were taken to Huntingdon, where the accident. Some of the cars contained cattle and many of the animals were killed.

were strewn along the tracks for fifty vards. The wrecking train did not arrive

The dead bodies of Crawford and

Mr. Crawford lived at No. 1,331 Sixth dren. Mr. Crawford was about thirty-considered one of the most careful and reliable engineers on the Pennsylvania road,

and was highly respected by the commu-

Mr. Schriver was a son of Mr.C.Schriver

of the baggage room at the depot. He resided at the corner of Second and Boas streets. He was a bricklayer by trade, but

AN OFFENCE THAT WAS RANK.

What do you think of Mr. Talmage

Why Worshipers at the Brooklyn Taber-nacle Were Asked to Take a Back and the revival at the Tabernacle?" asked

a street preacher, known as Dr. Kenyon, of a New York Tribune reporter yester-

"I took the poor men from the street

vilely appareled into the Tabernacle, and they were turned out two Sundays ago,'

said Dr. Kenyon. "Harrison, the revival preacher, was holding the meeting. He asked, 'Are they sailors?' I said, 'I do not know what they are, but they want Christ.' They were seated, five together, but soon after Major Corwin came and turned them out, and I then left the chapel in Cumberland street, Brooklyn,

yesterday afternoon, to discuss the ques tion, "Has a church the right to turn from its doors outcasts, however vilely appareled

was to bring this case before the public.

made to the reporter, and the Rev. Dr.

Kimball, of Brooklyn, corroborated the

he, "and the men were deliberately filed

out. The Tabernacle was not overflowing

Dr. Kenyon said further: "The greatest difficulty I have is to find refuge for the outcasts. Not a church in Brooklyn and spectable as the mother churches. The rustle of silk is heard there, and they are

Talmage about this matter, but as he has not answered, I must hold him particeps praying for the Tabernacle, the persons at the meeting adjourned without accom-

Maj, B. R. Corwin was found at his

"who is cleanly can get the best seat

After discussing the matter further and criminis in this atrocious affair.'

plishing anything apparently.

above receiving outcasts. I wrote to Dr.

nor were they in contact with others.

was astonished, and am yet."

"A conference was held," said

A meeting was held at Cumberland

"Why?" was the reply.

church as a protest.'

story.

express train east was four hours late.

About thirty-five cars were wrecked by an inquest was held.

their respective families.

nity in which he lived.

wife to mourn his death.

Lancaster Intelligencer.

WEDNESDAY EVEN'G, JUNE 30, 1880.

FOR PRESIDENT: GEN. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,

FOR VICE PRESIDENT: HON. WILLIAM H. ENGLISH.

OF PENNSYLVANIA.

OF INDIANA. The great principles of American liberty are still the lawful inheritance of this people, and ever should be. The right of trial by jury, the habeas corpus, the liberty of the press, the freedom of speech, the natural rights of persons and the rights of property must be preserved. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK, Maj. Gen. Comd'g Dept. La. and Texas.

A Party That Needs Repairs. There is nothing more cheering in political affairs than the lesson that is so profit from the good times that have frequently taught aspiring candidates come upon the country and set business for the presidency, that it is not a prize to be gained by wrestling for it. This is the bright aspect of the "dark horse's" successes which are so frequent, and which we grumble at while we welcome them. They are not an unmixed good, because they are apt to introduce fellows like Hayes, of contemptible parts, into the presidency. But we can better afford to take this risk than to put upon the country a self-seeking statesman with a great body of interested retainers behind him, who carry his flag for their profit and strive to secure his nomination in a very indecent way. It is a fight for the spoils in which fortunately there are several contending parties who scratch each other's eyes out, until finally the prize they contend for slips away to someone who has not striven for it at all. It is a just retribution upon the selfish politicians, and the merited fate of the party they serve, to be strangled at their hands as the Republican party was He will give General Hancock's own hisstrangled by Garfield's nomination at tory of the great battle, and will direct Chicago.

It is time that it went to the "demni_ tion bow-wows." Its twenty years of in July, 1863." excesses have worn out all its virtue and it needs to be retired for repairs. It has been living a lingering existence for some years entirely upon the memory of its war record. It has caused itself to be credit. ed with the country's salvation by arms and has covered with this reputation its multitude of sins. With a soldier like Garfield as its candidate now, who had but a brief experience in the army and resigned his commission for a more comfortable berth in Congress, the Republican party will have great difficulty in keeping the vantage they claim from their rebellion record lead of one of the greatest soldiers of the war. They cannot do it with a poor soldier against one of the best and an assailable record against one of the most unassailable. The Republican prospect seems a very hopeless one. And when we add to this the evident lack of harmony among the leaders and their distrust and dislike of the nominee, we have abundant reason for the confidence generally felt that Hancock and English will be elected.

Pennsylvania may be relied on for Hancock. She never deserts her own sons and always votes for the successful candidate for president. There is everything in Hancock's record to encourage and stimulate the state pride which will tend to give him so many votes from citizens who are less partisans than Pennsylvanians. Party ties are very weak just Bones." now. There is no very exciting issue between the parties, and consequently the ranks are swelling of the independent voters who will vote according to their impressions of the candidates as men. There are very many Republicans to be found who say that it will do their party good to be beaten. We have heard this said by very prominent men in the party in the state, who really think the party needs to be put upon the stocks to be freed from its barnacles and to get straightened out generally for a fresh voyage. This is a good time to do it. With a candidate that nobody cares about and whose record is so desperately bad as to discourage all hopes of his election, the time has come for the leaders to fold their arms and let their ship sail under easy canvas up to its dry-dock.

THOSE who think of traveling by water anywhere in the neighborhood of New York had better change their minds and stay at home until the present epidemic of burning and sinking among the boats of those waters gives signs of abatement. The least nervous of people have need to feel disturbed over the contemplation of a necessary journey affoat near New York; and the families who live on the surrounding shores must be in an unenviable state of dread when any of their families are away. It is a very remarkable series of calamities which apparently is entirely fortuitous, but therefore the more dreadful as the mark of a frowning Providence that cannot be escaped from. Is New York a Sodom?

WE print elsewhere the mournful details of the tragic death of a native Lan- river at Pittsburgh were drowned on Moncasterian who, full of years and honors, day evening. has been overtaken by a dreadful fate. Shining like a star amid the gloom of a brick wall falling upon him at the Allenthat melancholy recital is the description town rolling mill, which he and others of a filial love and heroic devotion fur-also badly injured. nished by the narrative of his daughter's efforts to save his life, which, fruitless in themselves are threatened besides with on the Monongahela, fell down stairs and the penalty of her own. That this fear | was so badly injured that she died in about may not be realized, and that there may be a speedy restoration to her family and friends of the brave young woman who subjected herself to a terrible and peril- Dunkel endeavored to escape and was shot ous ordeal from which only merciful un- in the back, but not dangerously wounded. prayer of all who read the graphic account of heroic and self-sacrificing devotion which will be found in our local columns to-day.

THAT arrant copperhead sheet, the Lancaster Examiner, which supported from his finger that she had given him and Grant for two terms and urged him for threw it it at her feet and then went out a third, declares against entrusting mere soldiers with the reins of the civil government of a republic. It is afraid of a "military dictator."

On the eve of the battle and in the face of the enemy the Intelligencer can find no better use for its columns than in applauding the wise action of the Penn_ sylvania delegation to Cincinnati in pressing no one of her own citizens upon the convention while accepting the invitation of other states extended to a Penn_ sylvania candidate. If state delegations would generally wait for a demand for one of their citizens to come from outside their borders they would show a good sense as commendable as their modesty. THAT fractional and happy portion of the population who are able to indulge in a summer vacation are just now casting about for some favorable location where they may while away the 'heated term." Reports from nearly all the popular summer resorts indicate preparations for an unusually active season, and it is probable the seaside and mountain bonifaces will reap a full measure of to booming so briskly in many directions.

MINOR TOPICS.

A PARIS dispatch to the London Daily News says: "Prince Jerome Napoleon intends to found a newspaper organ of his

THE secretary of the navy expects to close the business transactions of the current fiscal year to-day. He anticipates a surplus in the last appropriation of about

It is announced that the board of pardons will hold its next meeting on Tues day, July 6. In view of the liberality of the board at the last meeting the list of applications for executive clemency is

COLONEL FORNEY promises to devote this week's issue of Progress, which appears this afternoon, to Hancock and Gettysburg. attention to "the pledged debt of Philadelphia to the men who saved Philadelphia

Two valuable chapters of the the Times's the Annals of the War have been lost, for the season at least, by the presidential nominations at Chicago and Cincinnati. General Garfield is under engagement to furnish an article on General George H. Thomas and General Hancock is down for the latter county have been burned since a chapter on Gettysburg, but it will be just like presidential candidates to plead the exigencies of the political campaign as an excuse for withholding their important contributions to the unwritten history of

THE Petroleum World gets back at the against the Democratic party under the Oil City Derrick in the liveliest sort of way, action of Malcolm Hay, esq., chairman of only one in New York will open its doors and answer the latter's charge of its being the Pennsylvania delegation to Cincinnati, a Standard organ in a manner that is not calculated to soothe the Derrick's bruised feelings. We incline to the opinion that the World has got the "dead wood" on its esteemed contemporary. Concerning the source of the attacks that have been made upon it since its recent advent into the oil field as the avowed champion of the producers' interests the World says: "For this kind of opposition we tender grateful thanks. We expect just such opposition, and court it, from every morning paper published in the oil region. We do not individual delegate and treated each with want these literary agents of the Standard to even walk softly before the Lord. We thank them for the occasion they have given us to strip them of their disguise and leave the skeleton as bare as the Prophet saw in his vision of his Valley of Dry

PERSONAL.

Somebody says SARAH BERNHARDT is as then-well as then as picnic lemonade. Capt. McClelland has suspended the publication of the weekly Record in Pitts-

A. M. RAMBO, of the Columbia Courant, and R. B. Risk, of the Examiner, are off with the State editorial excursion to Wat-

D. K. BURKHOLDER, of this city, has tion from Pennsylvania came here absosecured the contract for distributing the lutely free to express their individual pre-Senate documents at Harrisburg next ferences for candidates. The Pennsylvania winter. He bid $1,935.

SITTING BULL's son consented to have his photograph taken the other day, with At that time General Hancock had not a the understanding that he should hold his majority of the delegation, but that made revolver in hand in readiness to shoot the no difference, as the delegation had been artist if the camera should go off.

It is reported that ZELDA HARRISON Seguin, the contralto, who was here with delegate. The language used by Mr. Hay the Emma Abbott opera company, is to be was approved by the delegation, and no married in October to a Mr. Wallace, of word of dissent, however slight, was heard Indianapolis.

W. U. HENSEL, esq., left for Lock the vote for Hancock on the second ballot Haven this morning, where he will de- he consulted nobody, but did it as chairliver the annual address this evening be- man of the delegation, exercising the just fore the State normal school. The subject of the address will be "Americanus Sum." It was General McClellan who, in his report of the battle of Williamsburg, said "Hancock was superb!" From this Mr. Dougherty took the thought of nominating at Cincinnati "Hancock the and congratulate you on your nomination. WM. A. WALLACE,

STATE ITEMS.

The Franklin county bar has had a pienic at Mt. Alto, and now wants the Cumberland valley lawyers to join in a reunion at Mt. Alto.

James Bradley and Daniel Sweeney, two small boys, while bathing in the Allegheny C. Wesley Arnold was instantly killed by

An old lady named Mrs. Carroll, while on a visit to her son at Speer's Landing, two hours. Morris Jarrett, of Macungie, and Harry Dunkel, of Allentown, were arrested while robbing Schauman's mill of flour, grain, etc. consciousness rescued her, will be the Their robberies at Schauman's and Pretz's mills amount to about $1,500.

resident of Monongahela City, Washington county, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He had been ber of the cars of the first train upon the engaged to Miss Free, but as he had been

LATEST NEWS BY MAIL

The census returns, two districts incomplete, show Milwaukee's population to be with a terrible crash. The engineer and firemen were buried in the wreck of the Servia and Roumania have come to a complete understanding with regard to the Bulgarian naturalization proposal. John Dwyer, ex-treasurer of Guttenburgh, N. J., on trial for embezzling town moneys and forging improvement certificates, was found guilty. The Orange county, N. Y., grand jury indicted Beaumont B. Buck, the Texan student who shot John G. Thompson's son at Highland Falls a few weeks ago.

Some Russian troops were defeated by the Chinese at Terd Pass and were pursued and again defeated at Kizelhuesghan. losing much ammunition and supplies. The Chinese have reached Gulcha.

The heat was extreme at Long Branch, yesterday, being 950 on the pier and 990 in the village. Several persons were pros-trated by it; one, Henry Finch, of New York, will probably die. Class-day exercises were held at Yale college yesterdy. The poem was read by William H. Harper, of Washington. Among those present were Hon. Alphonso Taft, of Ohio and Hon. W. B. Washburne, of Greenfield, Mass. Lock No. 2, of the Lacine canal, was burst vesterday by the steamer Bohemian.

Two barges were sunk and a steamer badly damaged. The loss is about $100,000. Navigation of the canal will be interrupted until to-night. The alumni of Vermont university yes terday elected H. Henry Powers president Hon. Rosewell G. Horr, member of Congress from Michigan, delivered the oration at the celebration of the Phi Beta Kappa society, his subject being "Individual-In a match game between the Canadian and Halifax cricketers at London on Tuesday the Canadians scored in their first inning 75 and in the second 7 for three wickets. The Halitax made in their first inning 114 and in their second 66.

The match was drawn, owing to rain. A cottage on Ayrault street, Newport, owned by Mrs. C. A. Wyeth, of New York, and leased by G. S. Bowdoin, of Boston, was partially burned yesterday morning. The fire originated by spontaneous combustion. The loss on the house is $4,000; on furniture, $10,000. Insured. In Warsaw, Ill., the levee which protects the bottom lands of the country broke, and the water is pouring through a crevasse 200 feet wide. All the wheat and corn and other crops will be lost, and 18,000 acres of land will be overflowed. The people are now engaged in getting their live stock

The forest fires in New Jersey have again broken out. Large tracts of woodland in Monmouth and Ocean counties if their behavior is good?" Apparently is have been swept over by the flames. Im mense cedar tracts in the lower part of Dr. Kenyon repeated the statement he had Sunday morning. The drouth is terrible, as no rain of any account has fallen there for weeks past.

HANCOCK'S NOMINATION. The Action of the Chairman of the Pennsyl

The Pittsburgh Telegraph says : "The according to the statement of a delegate, has been misrepresented in despatches to several of the Pittsburgh papers. This delegate says that Mr. Hay's position is correctly set forth in the Cincinnati papers and has only been misrepresented by a portion of the Pittsburgh press. He asserts that there was no misunderstanding in the delegation and no dissatisfaction at the course of Chairman Hay at any time, and that the latter did the right thing at the right time, and the only right thing when he nominated Hancock by the vote of Pennsylvania. This delegate says that Mr. Hay recognized the right of every house and was asked about this matter. "I don't know," he said, "that I really ought to say anything about it. I don't know whether or not you are a Christian, but your appearance indicates that at least you respect Christianity," equal and exact justice. There being no " All right" said the reporter. unit rule, every delegate was the peer of every other, and Mr. Hay's province was "Any poor man," continued Major Corsimply to voice to the convention their inthat is left in the church at any time. But dividual will as expressed it to him. Consethis man brought in ten as filthy men as I quently seven or eight candidates were voted ever saw inside or outside any building. for on the first ballot, and the result an-Several persons near them asked to have nounced to the convention by Mr. Hav. Then their seats changed, as the smell was inthe critical moment came for placing candidates in nomination. Mr. Hay was tolerable. These men were then shown to seats in the corridor, where others were, and where they could hear well without prepared for the emergency. Daniel Dougherty, who was to nominate Hancontaminating any one else. Kenyon did not cock, had been substituted for Mr. Spear sit within forty feet of his flock. Why at the opening of the day's session. Mr. did he not shepherd them? He had bet-Hay had carefully considered beforehand ter taken them to a pump first if they what ought to be said by him, and had wanted Christ. We shall always preserve communicated to several of the most good order and propriety as long as we judicious delegates, who were for other live, in this church; Kenyon's act was an candidates than his own (Tilden), what he intended to say. This is the exact lan-guage used by him in announcing to the outrage and an insult, and if he ever brings in such a squad again I will have him arrested; but I will treat his convention that one of the delegates would people well. Dr. Talmage is parpresent Hancock's name. "The delegaticeps crimines to this extent, that he wants all improper elements removed from the church. Each of the men said he was to get a dinner and 25 sents for delegation, as a delegation, has no candicoming over to the church. There have date to present, but a delegate from Pennbeen a good many attempts to break up sylvania desires to make a nomination.' our meetings. If these men had stayed, there would have been a stampede of the others present. sent to Cincinnati expressly against the unit rule, and it was Mr. Hay's place to recognize the position of every individual

When Mr. Hay determined to cast

"Senator of Pennsylvania."

responsibilities belonging to his position,

trusting to the assent and approval of del

It has been reported that Senator Wal-

Gen. Hancock after Hay had made his

It is hardly possible that Mr. Wallace would send such a presumptive and unjus tifiable message, since neither Mr. Wallace, Mr. Randall nor any of their friends outside the delegation were consulted, and the nomination of Hancock was the work of Chairman Hay and the Pennsylvania

delegation alone, and they "settled it"

THE P. R. R. DISASTER.

How a Great Wreck Occurred.

morning, a terrible railroad accident oc-

were wrecked and two men were killed.

Somewhere near the time and place

nentioned some cars in a westward bound freight train broke down and compelled the lace has sent the following despatch to speech:

"I have just thrown you our solid vote

burgh.

Dr. Tucker, the treasurer of the Tabernacle, was present, and said as a physician he knew the sanitary requirements of the case, and that Major Corwin only did his and no apprehension arose save in Pitts

HANCOCK AND THE REPUBLICANS Mr. Leonard W. Jerome Points Out Why All Republicans Must Support the Hero of Getttysburg. The following letter has been handed to the World by Mr. Jerome with a request egates, which was cheerfully given by all. for its publication :

> WEST TWENTY-SIXTH STREET, ? June 28, 1880. MAJOR GENERAL HANCOCK: My Dear General: I take the earliest opportunity to congratulate you upon your nomination and to assure you, life-long Whig and Republican that I am, of my most hearty support. I belong to a very stanch old silver-gray Republican family. With one solitary exception, there never was one of them known to vote the Democratic ticket, but I venture to say they will to a man vote for you. They cannot consistently do otherwise.

You, sir, embody the views and sentiments in regard to the great questions of without aid or intimation from Mr. Walthe day that we have entertained since the war closed. They were the same that actuated General Grant when he laid down those liberal terms of surrender to General Lee. They are the same that actuated my poor friend Raymond, when he battled so manfully in the committee of Congress Between four and five o'clock yesterday against the savage policy of Thad Stevens. curred on the Pennsylvania railroad near I believe General Grant would support you to-day, did not the exigencies Warrior's Mark, just west of Huntingdon, of his situation forbid it. And by which a large number of freight cars Henry J. Raymond were he alive, would support you too, unless the exigencies of the New York Times restrained him. He was compelled at an early day to smother stoppage of the train. Before measures the sentiments he had expressed in the address of the Philadelphia convention, to could be taken to prevent the accident another westward bound freight train came abandon his career in legislative halls and thundering along and ran into the rear of to change to tone of the Times or, as Mr, Frank Bently, aged 22, a well-known the broken freight. None of the crew on Jones, our business manager and partner. Jones, our business manager and partner, insisted, the paper would be ruined. (I started vesterday for an extended trip believe I offered to pay the damages at the started yesterday for an extended trip. bags, blankets and a few other articles, time, but that was considered impractica- They go to Council Blufis, Iowa, and after the property of persons residing in East ble.) It was a bitter pill, but it had to be a sojourn of about two weeks they will Earl and vicinity, was released on bail this south track. A heavy thunder and rain curve through the storm rushed the train, to be the helpless supporters of a policy we believe to the very worst that could be devised. An opportunity is presented us of this county continue to file their returns now for the first time with any show of engine. The debris was at once attacked success to vote in accordance with our conand the wrecking train was sent for. The victions, and I am sure we shall do it most joyfully. With great respect and esteem, believe me yours faithfully. first body found was that of John B.Crawford, the engineer. The enfortunate man's

LEONARD W. JEROME. THE SEAWANHAMA'S DEAD.

Twenty-Five Bodies Recovered and Twenty Persons Still Missing. New York dispatch to the Times. The latest accounts of the Seawanhaka disaster report twenty-five persons dead, of whom twenty-four have been identified and twenty others missing. The number who suffered injuries of some severity Pieces of merchandise and broken cars is between twenty and thirty. It is thought that not more than one or two of on the scene until about 9 o'clock, and the injured are likely to die. Nothing is in consequence of the collision the Pacific definitely known as to the cause of the fire. The engineer, in his official statement, says that, in his opinion, the fire was caused by Schriver were brought to Harrisburg last an outburst of ignited gas that had accu evening at 8:15 and taken in charge by mulated in the furnace. The boiler of the ourned steamboat was to-day examined by a brother of Captain Smith, who is said to street. He leaves a wife and three chilbe capable of giving an expert opinion, and he says that he discovered no break in seven years of age and had been a gallant the boiler or flues nor defect in the fursoldier in the war of the rebellion. He was Among the missing reported late this afte noon are: Mrs. Mary Ann Flynn, of Second avenue and 116th street; H. H. Hurlburd, of Great Neck, L. I., a broker : Israel Bloomingdale, of East Forty-ninth street. Nothing as yet has been heard from Mr. Charles A. Applebee, remissing last night. Three ported had been in the employ of the railroad company since 1876. He leaves a young more bodies were identified at the morgue, viz: Theodore Cauthier, a grocer, of Sheriff street; Constantine Sherry, of One-hundred-and-seventeenth street and Clarence Vandewater, a fouryear-old son of John P. Vandewater, of Hen Cove. A colored man employed on Seawanhaka, but whose name is unknown, is also recognized. At two o'clock the morgue was crowded with friends of the missing people, making anxious inquiries. There are four bodies there still unidenti-

Felix Aucaigne, correspondent for French street, found his sister to-day in the hospital at Willet's Point, a confirmed lunatic. She had been on board the steamer Seawanhaka with Mrs. Aucaigne, but her condition was such to-day that she could no tell anything about her sister-in-law. Mr. so that he could remove the body of his wife if he found it.

He Dressed Hancock's Wounds. Dr. A. N. Dougherty, of Newark, says In the third day's fight at Gettysburg he was wounded, and I was sent for. I found him lying on the hill slope, under a tree and facing the enemy. There was a deep, wide gash in his teg, near the groin. In the wound where wood splinters and a tenpenny nail. Gen. Hancock was anxious to mow what the rebels were using in their shells. He thought he had been wounded by splinters from one of the enemy's We put him into an ambulance, and I lay down beside him. Then we drove through a hot fire to my hospital. Afterwards I discovered that a bullet had penetrated his saddle, and then lodged in his thigh, carrying with it the wood splinters and the ten-penny nail.

"As he lay in the hospital in great pain, , at his dictation, wrote his first dispatch to Gen. Meade, announcing the victory won at Gettysbure, adding to the dispatch that the defeat would be turned into a rout. He was calm, patient and heroic. He is equally entitled with Meade to the honer of the victory at Gettysburg, and Meade would say so if he were alive. On the night of the second day's battle a council of war was held. It was proposed to fall back and establish the line of battle at Pipe creek, but Hancock opposed it. He argued that the army should stay where it was, and he said that the Army of the Potomac had made its last retreat, and should fight or die on Meade finally coincided with Hancock, and the result was that that great victory crippled the rebels so that they never recover

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A Social Festival. The members and friends of Grace Luth eran church united last evening to hold a social church festival in honor of the Augsburg Confession and Formula Concordia ubilee services held on Sunday. The lecture room of the church was filled to overflowing and for the pleasure of the large audience, in addition to social conversation, a musical and literary programme was observed and refreshments in the form of ice cream and cake served to all present. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock by Mr. W. P. Frailey, president of the Young Men's society connected with Grace church ; Rev. C. E. Houpt, pastor, offered prayer; an anthem was rendered by the choir under the leadership of Mr. John B. Kevinski ; Mr. J. Harry Geissinger read a selection from Mrs. Stowe; Mr. Kevinski and Miss Emma Gensemer executed in good style a duo for violin and organ; little Miss Mamie Berner sang very prettily a vocal solo, "Somebody's Darling," accompanying herself on the organ, behind which she could scarcely be seen, and Miss Sallie Kahl, of Grace choir, sang Waiting," Miss Katie Swartzwelder and Mr. Kevinski accompanying her on the organ and violin.

Supposed Postoffice Thief Arrested. Columbia on suspicion of being a postis a detective in the employ of the post- like order could be restored. office department, had Middlewood arrested in Columbia, and he immediately telegraphed to Captain Sprecher, of this city. Mr. Sprecher went to Columbia yesterday afternoon and took Middlewood in charge. The prisoner was brought to this city last evening and placed in the lockup, and this morning he was taken to Philadelphia by Captain porter hunting an item, he allowed some Sprecher.

Early Closing. From and after to-morrow, July 1st, the jewelers of this city have agreed to close their stores every evening except Saturday at 6 o'clock. This arrangement to continue until the 1st of September.

Messrs. Givler, Bowers & Hurst also announce their intention of closing their dry goods store every evening at 7 o'clock during the heated term except Saturdays.

Goue West.

Dr. H. E. Keylor and brother, J. B. Key-

Further Consus Notes The enumerators of the several districts in the office of the prothonotary. We add to the districts heretofore published the following: Conestoga township returns 2,346; increase 267. Donegal, West, returns 1,272; in 1870 the number was 1,269, including Newville, which was then a separate census district. Donegal, East, returns 3,573 against 3.254 in 1870 : increase 319.

Elizabethtown borough 978, against 858 in 1870-increase 120.

Eden township 1,253; in 1870 it was 1,075, making the increase 178. Hempfield East, consolidated, foots up ,184; in 1870 it was 2,602, the increase being 582. Earl East foots up 3,024; in 1870 it was 2,310, showing an increase of 714. While several townships show a larger population Another fact worth mentioning in connection with the enumeration is that George Duchman, who made it, took the census of the same district in 1860.

Washington borough returns a popula tion of 696. In 1870 it was 673. Strasburg borough went back a little.

In 1870 the population was 1,008; in 1880, Manheim township consolidated returns

917 inhabitants. In 1870 the number was .603-increase 314. Manheim borough returns 1,666. In 1870, it was only 1,122, the increase being Martic returns 1,981: In 1870 the return was 1,926-increase, 55.

Presentation to Mr. Gates. On Monday afternoon the pupils of the first class of Mr. Gates's secondary school. who have just been transferred to the high school, surprised their late teacher papers, living at 341 West Twenty eighth by visiting him in a body at his residence on West Chestnut street, where one of their number, Master Charlie D. Myers, in a few fitting remarks, presented him with a handsome silver ice pitcher as a token of the esteem and regard to which he Aucaigne took a blank death certificate, is held by his late pupils. Though "taken unawares," the learned pedagogue succeeded in expressing his thanks for the beautiful gift and returned the boys' compliment by inviting them all visit him last night, a call which it perhaps unnecessary to state, was cheerfully heeded, and last night Mr. Gates entertained them in handsome style. The evening was pleasantly spent in story-telling, jokes, anecdotes and music, and last, but by no means least, a royal collation to which the fullest meed of justice was rendered by the hungry school-boys. The occasion will long be remembered by all who participated as a thoroughly enjoyable one.

A Mean Trick. Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock a beautiful Italian greyhound and a handoughbred animals belonging to Captain H. H. Power, of the City hotel, suddenly sickened from some cause at the time unknown, and died within half an hour. The doubtless administered the deadly drug to gratify personal spite; as both dogs-so far from being ugly or vicious-were perthe line where the battle begun. General feetly gentle and harmless creatures, and great favorites with the habitues of the hotel. Quick and severe justice should be the deserts of the perpetrator of so dastardly a deed, for information leading to Power offers a reward of $50. "Prince" and "Bye" will be sadly missed around the City hotel. A Tough Turkey Story. The Harrisburg Telegraph of last evening contains the following: "When the fast line on the Pennsylvania railroad reached Philadelphia at 7:40 yesterday morning Engineer Christ. Hoffmaster called the attention of the depot employees to a large turkey sitting on the cow catchas if on the roost. Christ, said he had caught the turkey at Gordonville, Lancaster county, and had been watching it all the way down to Philadelphia. How the bird preserved its balance, considering the rate of speed at which the fast line flies along is a mystery. The engineer took charge of his turkeyship, and there's a fair prospect of a roast at his house."

Another Row. The Republican politicians are not yet him, the fire soon hid him from the view done quarreling over the result of the primary election. Late yesterday afternoon some of them met at Woehrle's saloon, and for a time it looked as though there might arily, if not permanently, blinded by the be a general fight. Terrible threats were made and it is alleged that one of the party drew a pistol. The upshot of the matter was that John W. Mentzer made complaint Yesterday afternoon, George W. Mid- against Wm. Leenard for surety of the llewood, alias "Bud," was arrested in peace and drunken and disorderly conduct. Leonard, accompanied by some friends, apoffice thief. It appears that while he was peared before Alderman Barr this morning in Columbia Middlewood offered to sell a to enter bail, and so boisterous were one lot of postage stamps at a price less than or two of them that the alderman had to Johnson of St. John's church, Brooklyn. par value. Special Officer Barrett, who threaten to lock them up before anything He was for five or six years rector of a

> A Trusty Horse. The horse hitched to Wm. Blickenderfer's wagon, tied in front of Hoffmerer's furniture store this morning, slipped his bridle and had every chance for a firstclass runaway; but being more considerate for his owner's property than for the re-

Horse and Wagon Stolen. A black horse and heavy spring wagon (owner's name not given) was stolen from Harrisburg night before last. The horse with his duties, and procured for him an is a heavy one and branded "S. T." under assistant, the Rev. J. W. Sparks. A few the mane. Detectives Roat and Anderson, of Harrisburg, have notified our chief of

for the recovery of the stolen property.

one to hold him by the head and mane

until the harness was readjusted.

Admitted to Ball. Wm. Watson, colored, who was comitted to prison about six wee

A VICTIM OF THE WRECK

Rev. Dr. J. W. Diller Lost on

Telegrams received by relatives residing n this city confirm the truth of newspaper reports the Rev. Jacob William Diller, D. D., rector of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal church, Brooklyn, was one of the victions of the wreck of the steamer Seawanhaka burnt off College Point, East river, on Monday afternoon, of which particulars have been heretofore published. One of the dispatchs announces that the body of Rev. Dr. Diller has been recovered, and that the funeral will probably take place on Thursday.

Rev. Dr. Diller was a native of this county, a son of George Diller, and brother to George, Samuel and Isaac Diller, our well-known fellow citizens. He was born in 1810, and was in his 71st year than East Earl, no single census district at the time of the terrible accident resultin the county has so large a population, ing in his death. He spent his early life in Lancaster, and finished his education at Flushing, Long Island, under the guidance of Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg, a former rector of St. James, this city. On being elevated to the priesthood, he held one or two minor charges, and was then chosen rector of St. Luke's, Brooklyn, and remained connected with that church until the time of his death. A year or two ago, on account of failing health, Dr. Diller tendered his resignation as rector of St. Luke's. He was relieved from the active duties of the ministry but was continued as rector emeritus for life, his congregation being unwilling to have him sever his connection with the church.

Dr. Diller leaves a family of one son and four daughters-his son being the celebrated organist of Brooklyn, to whose wonderful performance hundreds of Laneasterians have so often listened with delight. Two of Dr. Diller's daughters are married and two are single. One of them, Miss Lillie, was on the steamer with her father at the time it was burned. A telegram states that she is very severely burn ed, but whether dangerously or not is not yet known.

Details of Dr. Diller's Death and His Daugh ter's Heroic Devotion.

The New York Sun of this morning

prints the following harrowing details of Dr. Diller's tragic death, and of the superb heroism of his daughter in a fruitless attempt to save his life : "Before the fire broke out two striking figures had attracted the attention of many passengers. One was a venerable man of 70, silver-haired, portly, with gray whiskers, and a goodhumored, pleasant face. Although be weighed full 300 pounds, he was feeble, and the object of affectionate attention from the lady who accompanied him. The man was the Rev. Dr. Jacob William Diller. rector emeritus of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Clinton avenue, Brooklyn. The lady was his daughter. Miss Lillie Diller. Even while the other passengers were in intense alarm for their own safety, their some black and tan terrier, both fine thor- attention was riveted by the devotedness of the brave woman, whom not even the flames could drive from the post of filial duty. Dr. Diller had been for some time suffering from softening of the brain, and peculiar circumstances at once aroused the whirl of excitement on the boat seemed suspicion that they had been poisoned, and to have dazed him. Although Miss Diller a post mortem examination revealed that had placed a life preserver about him, he such had been the case. Some mean and clung with frantic grasp to one of cowardly enemy of the owner had the posts, and his daughter's entreaties could not move him. With eyes fixed in almost vacant stare upon the terrible scene. and regardless of the fact that the flames were creeping towards him, he hugged his support. Gradually all in the vicinity had fled to some place of safety and the two were left alone near the cracking timbers, now enveloped in the smoke and hid from the arrest and conviction of whom Capt. view, and now set out in strong relief by the background of fire. The sparks began to fall near them, and again and again Miss Diller entreated her father to leave the spot, 'Save my father! Save him! Oh, save him! she cried. Persons in the water called to her to leap and save herself. Finally the flames enveloped the unfortunate pair, and it was only then. when her father's hair and clothes were burning and her own dress had taken fire, that she gave an embrace and a parting kiss to her father, and with 'Good-by er of his engine, apparently as contented upon her lips, fell senseless into the water. Among those who witnessed the dreadful scene was Mr. Mitchell Cooke, of 58 Broadway. He had been among those who urged Miss Diller to jump into the water, and as he was an expert swimmer, and had two life preservers, he was ready to render her assistance. As she rose to the surface he grasped her streaming hair, and bore her to the shore at the moment when the fierce flames had overtaken her

> "Jacob William Diller, D. D., was born in Lancaster, Pa., seventy years ago. He was associated with the Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg for many years, and acted as tutor of mathematics under him. Over forty years ago he was ordained a deacon, and was associated in the ministry with Dr. church in the diocese of Vermont. About thirty years ago he was chosen rector of St. Luke's church, Clinton avenue, Brooklyn, and has been in charge of that parish ever since. He had a wife and five children. Two of his daughters are married and one son is organist of Grace church.

father. Despite her heroic efforts to save of the spectators. Miss Diller did not see him die. She was taken to Randall's island where she was found to be tempor-heat. Her face and neck were severely burned, but her life will be saved.

"Dr. Diller's connection with St. Luke's was a happy one; and he was beloved by all his parishioners. He bore the reputation of a self-sacrificing, earnest man. He had been known to take off his coat and give it to a stranger. Recently his congregation found that he was too feeble to go on months ago he was made rector emeritus. He lived for many years in a quaint old police that a reward of $150 will be paid house at 515 Vanderbilt avenue, near Fulton avenue, but had not amassed much property. Last Easter he put an offering of $5,000 on the altar to aid in extinguishing the church debt, but the money was furnished by a loving parishioner, who modestly chose that method of making his donation.

"When Bishep Littlejohn was elected, Dr. she would not marry him. He took a ring from his finger that she had given him and threw it it at her feet and then went out to a field and shot himself.

Rev. Hoyt E. Jones, of the M. E. church on trial in Brooklyn for indecent assault upon his stepson has been acquitted.

Storm was raging at the time. In a few swallowed. Thad Stevens had succeeded through a Congress which misrepressent the sum of $500.

Foot Crushed.

Samuel Weitzel, an employee of the St. John's church Charity Foundation, believe, were disgusted, it was fastened upon them and there was no way of getting rid of it. Thus for years a vast number of that district has a population of 1,888, us, good Republicans, have been compelled showing a decrease of 3 since 1870. Diller was a prominent candidate for the